Effective records management

If you work in public safety, you know that finding information quickly and accurately is vital. IDT, an information technology company, offers a comprehensive police records management system (RMS) to law enforcement offices throughout the country. Our system, powered by OnBase™ and CAPSYS CAPTURE™ software, converts documents to electronic files and automatically routes them to the right people, allowing courts and officers to operate at top efficiency.

Immediate results

The IDT system ingests information and makes it immediately available wherever you are, eliminating the need to copy, print or transport documents. Court documents are securely stored in a central repository and automatically connected to your case management system for easy access within case data screens. Regardless of the system you use, OnBase and CAPSYS CAPTURE act as a content repository, workflow engine and capture partner—connecting your existing system to the power of a proven document management system.

Automated requests

This RMS also automates processes like records requests, arraignments and warrants, letting staff focus on other tasks and initiatives. You can quickly capture and secure documents and connect them with existing IT systems to speed up processes, while improving access to information. Even if you are dealing with reduced budgets and staffing, OnBase and CAPSYS CAPTURE let you continue to quickly and efficiently deliver justice to the communities you serve.

“The biggest benefit of the new system is that there is round-the-clock access to files. Plus, everyone thinks it’s great to be able to sit at their desks and access any file. Needless to say, the new system has made all of us a good deal more efficient.”
